OLD MEMORIES

OLD MEMORIES

As the times change, we increasingly crave art elements that can evoke emotional resonance deep within us. The art of shibori dyeing is one such art form, blending traditional craftsmanship with modern design. With its unique visual effects and profound cultural heritage, it has garnered wide acclaim.

This series of designs employs the shibori technique, drawing inspiration from nature and human landscapes to create a rich and varied color effect. The mottled colors evoke thoughts of rust, old photos, and ancient forests, revealing traces of time and a sense of historical weight. It evokes memories of the past while sparking limitless imagination about the future.

A CHILD'S DREAM

What might dwell in a child's dream. It must be a beautiful dream, like a fairy tale.

Everything appears in the form of cartoon illustrations. Imagine it:

There are rabbits that not only talk but also ride bicycles, and some even fly in the sky holding balloons. The clouds are like cotton candy, and forests and houses float in the air, with hot air balloons as the primary mode of transportation.

This series of designs uses candy-like color schemes, with a cute, fairy-tale-like style that brings joy to your heart.

THE PAST

THE PAST

Plaid design is a classic and enduring fashion element, widely used in clothing, home decor, and various design fields. It features simple geometric shapes and regular arrangements, presenting an aesthetic that is both traditional and modern.

This series showcases the diversity and personality of patterns through the arrangement and combination of stripes of various sizes. The consistent spacing and widths create a sense of visual harmony. The design focuses on simplicity, avoiding excessive decoration and complex patterns.

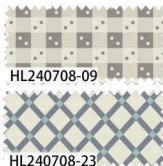

In terms of color, nostalgic and soft hues are chosen to achieve harmony and unity, predominantly featuring cool tones. These colors provide a sense of comfort to the mind and evoke memories of the past.

This design is themed around Christmas, blending traditional festive elements with modern aesthetics to create a warm and joyful atmosphere.

The primary color scheme consists of red and green, which are classic Christmas colors symbolizing the celebration and vitality of the holiday. Red represents passion and energy, while green signifies life and hope. Additionally, we have included accents of yellow and white to enrich the composition.

The design incorporates various Christmas elements such as Christmas trees, gift boxes, and snowflakes. These motifs are presented in a simple yet artistic manner, maintaining the essence of traditional festivities while catering to modern tastes.

We hope this design brings people joy and a sense of warmth, allowing everyone to feel more happiness and love during the holiday season.
