Purple night with flowing gold

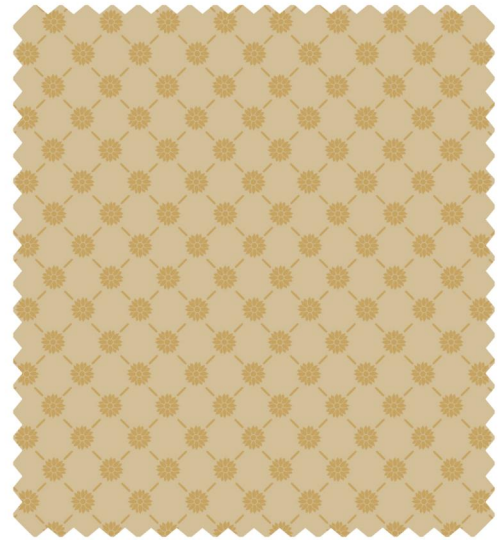

Deep purple is the velvet of falling dusk, and the gilded flower shadows are a secret garden blooming quietly in the night mist. Clusters of flowers unfurl their gilded petal tips; tiny blooms cluster into starburst-like bunches. Flower and leaf outlines soften and blur against the purple backdrop, as if the night has kneaded moonlight into the very veins of the flowers. This is a floral affair exclusive to the dark of night.

FAIRY TALE TOWN

Off-white is a spread-out page of fairy tale, where Paisley patterns weave a brocade robe for the horse. Winged Pegasus treads through blossoms, a unicorn curls up to nap beside roses, and a frosting-colored castle hides behind clusters of flowers. As the wind sweeps across the page, manes and petals tremble gently—you can almost hear the soft flutter of Pegasus' wings the next moment, carrying this page embroidered with whimsy to the rainbow kingdom above the clouds.

Manor Blossom Letters

Drawing inspiration from the natural charm of summer countryside and paired with rural gardening journals, this collection captures the delicate warmth of the "slow-woven moments" of English pastoral life—found in hand-painted rose illustrations, pressed vine specimens, and ditsy floral notes. We've woven these gently aged memories of the old garden into every inch of the fabric's texture, allowing the summer blooms of the historic manor to continue to thrive in today's everyday life.

PRODUCT EXAMPLE

The mockups for this collection center on "fabric form + finished product application", presenting a complete visual journey from raw fabric materials to end products.

They not only showcase the colors and texture of the fabric itself, but also intuitively demonstrate its real-world performance in different scenarios, helping customers quickly perceive the product's value.

Whispering Cloud Dye

This collection draws its core inspiration from the sky and cloud hues of dawn and dusk, translating the color gradient effects of natural phenomena such as sunrise, mist, and sunset glow into the gradient textures on the fabric. We aim to weave the flowing, gentle texture of the sky into daily soft furnishings, making each piece of fabric a "touchable sky". Through the color expression of "Cloud Drift Gradient", we hope to bring the healing power of natural celestial phenomena into everyday life.

PRODUCT EXAMPLE

This mockup adopts a dual-display approach of "fabric swatch + scenario implementation". It not only showcases the gradient layers and translucent texture of the fabric itself, but also reproduces the product's visual effect through a realistic soft furnishing scenario, allowing customers to intuitively perceive the complete value from raw fabric to finished product.

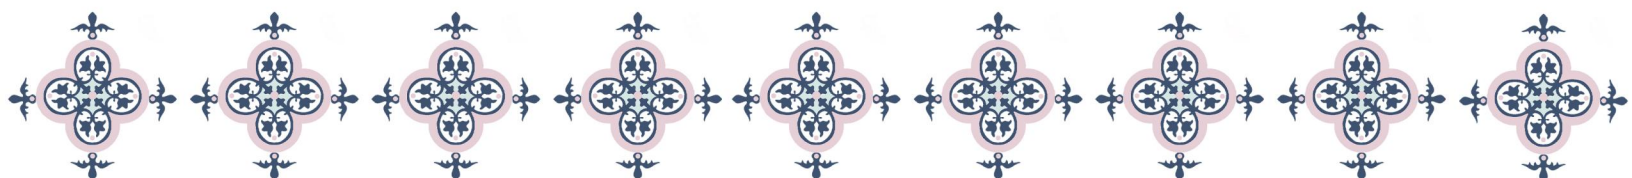

Divine Horse Announces Blessings

The nimble horse treads on the clouds to bring joy. The cloud patterns, like gossamer, unfurl and wrap around, brimming with auspiciousness. The entwined plant patterns meandering and spreading, adorned with the blooming peonies and red plums, exuding the vitality of spring. The square and regular geometric patterns are arranged in a staggered manner, outlining auspicious contours and adding a touch of elegance. The four patterns complement each other beautifully. The spirited horse raises its head and neighs, bringing peace, wealth and joy all at once, painting a lively and festive picture of the Spring Festival.

LOTUS BREEZE WAFTS FRAGRANCE INTO SUMMER

The lotus breeze wafts fragrance into summer, and interlocking branches twine around lotus blooms with inherent grace. Pure lotuses unfold the elegance of midsummer, while interlocking branches curl with lasting lingering charm. A vein of interlocking branch patterns twines and grows around the lotus, and wisps of lotus fragrance curl and spread along the lines. It condenses the fresh grace of summer and the continuous auspicious meaning of Chinese patterns in a tiny space, letting the lingering charm of summer and the fragrance of lotus wander gently with the interlocking branches, painting every sight with pure elegance.
